Stonebridge-Terrill Preserve protects 59 acres of meadow, wetlands, and forest. Used historically for agriculture, a portion of the property still yields hay for island livestock. The preserve provides varied habitat for wildlife, retains stormwater, and helps recharge aquifers.

A short trail into a forested wetland and wildlife observation area is open year-round. The mowed portion of the property is open to the public following mowing in late summer, with walk-in access from adjacent county roads. A portion of the field is also used occasionally by the Orcas Radio Control Aircraft Society.

When you visit:

- Stay on designated trails.
- Daytime and pedestrian use only.
- Leash your dog.
- Take nothing.
- Leave nothing.
